"I always like to start with an example of success, so I want to know where it happened and whether or not that will happen in New York," Alvarez told NBC News. But "we need to look at this as a step forward. We don't want to let the tech companies think that technology is going to solve the problem." Alvarez said there are a number of ways in which the taxis will have to change and whether the taxi industry can adapt to this change is not clear. One is that they could continue to charge extra for parking, but they could charge a lower rate than that of the cab companies, she said. Another possibility is to make the taxis more like limos, parking farther from the curb to make them easier to hail and charging more per hour, said Alvarez. But, she said, it's not easy to adapt to something new when the taxi companies are not used to sharing profits. And whether the taxi industry in New York can be taken over by Uber — whose CEO is a former cab driver — is a question "that the Legislature will have to answer," said Alvarez.Q: how to get the selected row's text in table view of edit mode I have done one table view, where a button has been added, clicking on which opens up a textfield and a table view.In the table view, i have one image and three textfields and three buttons.
